PAVING TIME IS EXTENDED

CONSTRUCTION COMPANY IS GIVEN 30 DAYS MORE

TWO STREETS VACATED

Land Reverts to Original Owners—Total Balance in City Funds is $52,503

An ordinance giving the Cook-O'Brien Construction Co. thirty days more in which to complete the grading, paving and curbing on West Fifth street and on Walnut street was passed last night at the monthly meeting of the City Council.

The ordinance states that "solely by reason of weather conditions" the construction company has been unable to finish the two projects within the time required by the contract. This time has nearly expired.

The Fifth street paving extends from the Wabash Railroad to the center line of Mulberry street. The Walnut street project extends from Thompson street to Halsey street.

Two Streets Vacated

Two ordinances were passed to vacate certain land originally platted for street purposes but never used. One affects a strip of land thirty feet in width from east to west and extending north and south along and adjacent to the west side of lots 4, 5 and 6 in block 25, Torrance's addition to the City of Maryville. This strip of land was to compose half of a street extending south as a continuation of what is known as Lovers lane, which now ends at Lincoln street, but such a street was never opened and the land west never has been platted. The land is to revert to the original owners, Mrs. Beulah Orear Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sisson.

The second ordinance provides for the vacation of a proposed street, platted as Myrtle street, extending from Fifth to Sixth streets and near the Wabash freight tracks. This street also had never been opened and the title reverts to Frank Smart.

Light Ordered on Seventh

In response to a petition of the student council of the State Teachers' College, asking for better lighting at Seventh and Ninth streets, the City Council ordered the placing of a light on Seventh at a point near the Wabash tracks. The petition was signed by Ray V. Blomfield, president of the student council, E. H. Dixon, David Nicholson, Zona M. Hoyt, Ned Colbert, Roberta Cook, David Max, Willetta Todd, C. E. Rising, and Doy H. Carr. An accompanying letter from President Uel Lamkin asked also that attention be given to sidewalks on those streets.

The monthly report of Mayor W. O. Garrett showed a total balance of $52,503.52 in the various city funds, from which bills for October are yet to be paid. The balances are as follows:

Water department—$29,488.64.
Street fund—$1,414.57.
Library fund—$2,429.38.
General fund—$3,967.13.
First water bond principal—$4,281.12.
First water bond interest—$1,862.29.
Street workers guarantee fund—$301.00.
Street lighting—$2,345.52.
Second water bond principal...$631.31.
Second water bond interest—$758.51
Petty cash—$20.45.

$45 From Police Court

The report of Police Judge W. L. Johnson showed a total revenue of $45 from fines during October. There were three cases of common assault, three of drunkenness and two of speeding.

Claud Stults, city weighmaster, reported receipts for the month of $23.80.

Included in the amounts paid out during the month were $70 for special police for duty on circus day and $114.60 for special police during the carnival.

The collector's report for the month showed total collections of $35.55.

Fire Chief Burt M. Rowley reported that the fire department had made three runs during the month. One was on October 23, to the home of Mrs. J. L. Scott, 207 West Seventh street; the second on October 27, to the McMillen home at 514 North Buchanan; and the third, a false alarm, to the photographic studio of F. W. Crow.

D. E. Hotchkin returned last night from Kansas City where he had been spending a few days on business.

C. of C. Dinner Will Be Held Monday Eve

To Be Given At Country Club Next Monday Evening—Caldwell And Fleetwood To Give Reports.

J. Ross Fleetwood, Nodaway County farm extension agent, and D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, will be the principle speakers at the Chamber of Commerce dinner at the country club at 6:30 o'clock next Monday night. Mr. Fleetwood will give a report of the recent navigation conference held in Kansas City, and Mr. Caldwell will tell of the commercial club secretaries meeting, also in Kansas City.

F. C. Miller and L. M. Eek, members of the entertainment committee, will offer suggestions for the next Chamber of Commerce dinner. They will also give a report on proposed entertainment at the various rural schools this winter.

The women are invited to attend the meeting next Monday night.

Tickets for the dinner are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office. Reservations must be made before Monday morning.

COUNTY RANKS HIGH IN SOIL

ONE OF LEADING IN MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.

IS FIFTH IN VALUES

Placed Tenth Among Eleven States In Production And Ninth In Returns From Farm Lands.

Nodaway County, famous in Missouri as the leading agricultural county of the state, has scored a new triumph as a farming center in the Mississippi Valley.

A recent booklet published by the Mississippi County Arkansas Chamber of Commerce places Nodaway County as one of the leading eleven in the Mississippi Valley in average value of farm lands per acre, average value of production of farm lands per acre, and average return, based on average land value as compiled from the U. S. Census figures.

In the table compiled by the Arkansas Chamber of Commerce, Nodaway County ranks fifth in the Mississippi Valley in the average value of farm lands per acre. The valuation is placed at $158.04.

In the average value of production of farm lands per acre, Nodaway County ranks tenth in the Mississippi Valley, according to the table compiled from United States census figures. The production value in this county is placed at $24.03 per acre.

In the average return, based on average land values, Nodaway County ranks ninth in the eleven states cited. The return in this county is put at 15.77 per cent.

Nodaway County is the only one in Missouri mentioned. The other counties included in the table are: Mississippi County, Arkansas, Jefferson County, Kentucky, Bolivar County, Mississippi, Shelby County, Tennessee, Darke County, Ohio, Ellis County, Texas, Reno County, Kansas, Allen County, Indiana, Sioux County, Iowa and McLean County, Illinois.

The table of comparison has just been received by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Stella McDowell Dies at Hospital

Death Came at 8:15 o'Clock This Morning After Few Days' Illness of Uremic Poisoning.

Miss Stella Vae McDowell, 18 years old, a student at the State Teachers College, died at 8:15 o'clock this morning at St. Francis hospital following a several days' illness of uremic poisoning. Miss McDowell was taken ill Friday morning while in school and was removed to St. Francis hospital Sunday morning. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDowell, living four miles northeast of Graham.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church in Graham conducted by the Rev. S. P. Allison, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Maryville. Burial will be in the Graham cemetery.

Miss McDowell was graduated from the Graham High School in the spring class of 1925 and entered the local College in September. Besides her parents, she is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. J. Ward Stevenson, Ralph McDowell, Mrs. Gerald Mendenhall and Jack McDowell, all of Graham.

EDITS A WORK ON RURAL LIFE

JOHN A. BELLOWS PUBLISHES TEN VOLUMES.

PRAISED BY EXPERTS

Every Phase of Agriculture Activities Covered in Articles By Leading Authorities.

A man produced by Nodaway County—a member of the first graduating class of the Maryville High School—has published recently what is hailed as "the first comprehensive country-minded work," a collection of the broadest knowledge of the nation's ablest rural leaders.

The work is "The Book of Rural Life," in ten volumes, and its managing editor is John A. Bellows, brother of C. D. Bellows of this city. Mr. Bellows now is president of the Bellows-Durham Co. of Chicago, nationally known publishers.

A prospectus which will be given nation-wide circulation says of Mr. Bellows that he "comes from a family inseparably linked with agriculture, his father founding in 1873 the herd of shorthorn cattle perpetuated by Bellows Brothers, Maryville, Mo. Early farm environment, constant sympathy with country life, natural educational bent and a successful career covering a quarter of a century, as publisher for school and home, ideally equipped him to vision and direct 'The Book of Rural Life.'"

Others Associated.

Associated with Mr. Bellows in the publishing of the book and stockholders in the publishing company are his brother, Edwin Bellows, his nephews, Harold Bellows and Charles D. Bellows, Jr., and his son, John A. Bellows, Jr., of Chicago. C. D. Bellows and his son, Fred D. Bellows, of Maryville, have consented to manage the distribution of the books in the State of Missouri.

The "Book of Rural Life" has been highly recommended by George W. Reavis, state director of vocational education; M. G. Thornburg, secretary of agriculture of State of Iowa; and Macy Campbell, head of department of rural education, Iowa State Teachers College; and Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools of Missouri. Mr. Campbell says of the series that they are "the best organized, the most comprehensive and the most authoriatively written."

The set contains ten large volumes, 6200 pages, 8500 titles alphabetically arranged and cross-indexed, complete classified reader's research guide; 6000 text half-tones and line drawings; and 100 plates in colors. Among the contributors are 250 of the highest authorities on the nation's rural life. The set covers this entire field, including agriculture, home economics, science, education, character building, child training, health, hygiene, play and recreation, rural community organization, civics, economics, business, law and many other departments of knowledge.

Many Missouri Contributors.

There are more contributors from Missouri than any other state. Many of them are connected with the State University at Columbia.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture, is the contributor of the article on "Animal Breeding." It takes up many questions of animal breeding and tells of the development of the science. Several cuts of champion livestock owned by the College of Agriculture are used.

Articles on "The Mule," "The Ass," and "The American Saddle Horse" are written by E. A. Trowbridge, professor of animal husbandry. A history of the annmals, description of their development and growth and statistics of the animals are given. A map shows the distribution of mules in Missouri, which is among the leading states in their production.

"Missouri" is written by W. C. Etheridge, professor of field crops. The article tells of the history of the state and of its resources, climate and mineral products. Statistics of Missouri agriculture are given. A map showing the operating drainage enterprises of the state, most of which are in southeast Missouri, is included in the article.

Missouri Illustrations Used.

Various illustrations of places of interest in Missouri and activities of the state are used. Among these are Jesse Hall, two pictures in color of dairy barns and Holstein cattle of the

It Probably Took Much Diplomacy To Settle This

Washington, Nov. 3.—A large Washington hotel almost had what statesmen love to call "a diplomatic incident" on its hands this morning, and there were a lot of "diablos" before it was ended.

When members of the Italian debt-funding commission emerged from their hotel, they were astounded to find the flag of Italy, which floats over the hotel, flying upside down.

The manager was hurriedly summoned. Although he couldn't speak a word of Italian, he knew something was wrong. He could feel it. An interpreter was summoned and then apologies followed.

The flag had been run up by George Washington Jackson and Thomas Jefferson Jones, two persons of African persuasion.

ARRANGES FOR MEETING HERE

STATE FIRE CONVENTION ASSOCIATION CONVENES NOV. 18.

RATES NOT INVOLVED

About Thirty Or Forty Visitors Expected To Attend—Aims at Educational Work To Prevent Fires.

A meeting of the Missouri State Fire Prevention Association, to be held in Maryville on November 18, was being arranged today by J. Burr Taylor of Kansas City, executive representative of the association.

About thirty or forty visitors are expected to attend. They will include the state and special agents for the various stock fire insurance companies engaged in educational work to reduce losses by fire. The meeting has nothing to do with insurance rates.

A luncheon will be held at noon with members of the Chamber of Commerce and representative women. A feature of the day will be an inspection of the business district, the schools, churches and other public buildings.

The Fire Prevention Association works largely through the schools to reduce fire hazards and instructs the public in ways to prevent losses. Members of the association will make talks in the public schools and "home inspection blanks" will be distributed among the children above the third grade.

These blanks give a number of facts and figures as to the appalling destruction caused by fire and declare that more than 80 per cent of all fires are due to carelessness. The blanks exact a pledge from the children to "help reduce fire waste by being careful about fire and by insisting on the other members of the family doing likewise."

Mrs. Milton Chambers Dies Near Pickering

Mrs. Milton G. Chambers died at 8:30 o'clock this morning at her home northwest of Pickering of pneumonia. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Methodist Church in Pickering by the pastor, the Rev. E. W. Croy.

Mrs. Chambers was a widow, her husband having died on Aug. 16, 1909. They were married on March 8, 1883, and to them were born ten children: Verne Chambers of Ravenwood; Mrs. Leslie White, of White River, S. Dak.; Mrs. Bert Pfeiffer, Yuma, Colo.; Mrs. Frank Riley, Hopkins; Mrs. Don Albright, Hopkins; Ernest W. Chambers, Des Moines; Robert Chambers, Hopkins; and Floyd Chambers, Mrs. Jesse Carter, and Mrs. Guy Pfeiffer, all of Pickering.

Mrs. Chambers is also survived by three sisters: Mrs. Jennie Chambers, Loveland, Colo.; Mrs. Ella Ulmer, Hopkins; and Mrs. Elsie Cockayne, Maryville; one brother, Ward Grat, Pickering; and by sixteen grandchildren.

She was a native of Nodaway County, having been born here on Jan. 11, 1865.

Another Dies From Train Wreck Injuries

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 3.—The death here today of Sydney Unsted, 49, wealthy oil operator of Camden, Ark., from injuries suffered in the wreck of the Sunnyland, Frisco flyer, near here last week, brought the death toll to forty-four.

BAN IS PLACED ON POOL HALL

NONE IN NODAWAY COUNTY AFTER AUG. 7, 1926.

COUNTY COURT RULES

License Refused Today to E. O. Griggs at Conception Junction—Action Long Considered.

"No more pool halls" was decreed today by the Nodaway County court.

Refusing an application from E. O. Griggs of Wyeth, Mo., that he be permitted to operate three tables at Conception Junction, the county judges laid down the rule that no more county permits would be issued nor renewed. As a result, all the pool halls now operating will go out of business automatically at the expiration of their present licenses.

"We are casting no reflection upon the character of this applicant," said E. T. Bailey, presiding judge. "We couldn't refuse his application without refusing all others and we have decided to do that. We couldn't see that pool halls were any good to the county nor to Maryville, it being a school town."

In this sentiment, Judges Charles Armstrong and J. N. Billingsley concurred.

There are five places in the county in which pool tables now are operated, four in Maryville and one in Conception Junction. The court's ban will not affect the tables at the Elks Club, where they are not run for profit.

Considered for Some Time.

The court has had its action under consideration for some time, the members said, but had hesitated because of a belief that it was compulsory upon them to issue permits if approved by the city. In a recent test case, however, the Missouri Supreme Court is said to have upheld the power of county courts to deny all licenses.

The last county license for pool tables was issued on August 7 of this year. This means that the "zero hour" for the game, so far as Nodaway County is concerned, will be August 7, 1926.

Bills were paid and other routine business transacted by the court. An order was made vacating a road about 500 feet in length and passing through the property of M. F. Ripley, about five and one-half miles south of Maryville. The road was part of the main road before the present state highway was built but it is no longer being used.

A petition asking that the road be vacated was filed in August by Mr. Ripley and several other property owners, declaring that it was "useless and the repairing of same an unreasonable burden upon the township, county and district." Since that time, no remonstrance has been filed, and the land reverts back to Mr. Ripley.

Property owners who signed the petition were Everett Moore, Pete Myers, J. F. Roelofson, D. T. Owens, H. H. Boatwright, Elihu Busby, W. C. Brown, Granville F. Gray, Raymond T. Jones, C. N. Johnson, R. M. Evans, W. E. Espey, W. M. Blackford, Mike Baker, Allison Espey and Robert Patton.

Received $1,350 Damages.

The old road made a right angle turn to the east at the point in question. The state highway was cut diagonally across, and Ripley received $1,350 damages for the portion of his land which was used.

John Hoovencutter, a member of the Independence township board, asked the court for the reflooring of two bridges and the rebuilding of another in that township. He was assured that the court would give them attention as soon as the projects now under way are completed.

A like request was made by a delegation from Washington Township, asking for two bridges near the LaFayette school, in the extreme southeast part of the county.

The delegation from Graham yesterday, which was expected to have to do with road matters, proved to have a charitable mission. The matter was referred to the probate court. Those in the Graham delegation were Mr. Harvey, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Morgan, Mrs. Ed Geyer and Mr. and Mrs. John Geyer.

Miss Glenn Porter resumed work in the office of Dr. E. C. Braniger yesterday morning after an operation at St. Francis Hospital several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barmann and sons of Arkoe were in Maryville yesterday.

Experts are Busy on Italian Debt Problem

It Is Understood European Delegation Will Ask For Moratorium Of About Ten Years.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Actual negotiations for the funding for Italy's debt of more than two billion dollars were at a standstill today while American experts labored with statistics bearing upon Italy's capacity to pay.

Count Volpi, the Italian leader, has issued a statement that he is here to reach an agreement and not to repeat the Caillaux French failure. Secretary Mellon has given assurance the terms will not exceed Italy's capacity to pay.

It is unofficially reported today the Italians will request a moratorium, not to exceed ten years, and agree to settle thereafter on approximately the same terms as given Great Britain.

TWO ACCUSED ASK HEARING

ST. LOUIS MEN REFUSE TO WAIVE PRELIMINARY.

MAY ATTACK VALIDITY

Police Order Is Issued For All Who Have Not Yet Given Bonds For Appearance In Indianapolis.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Indications here today were that at least some of those indicted in the Jack Daniel whisky distillery theft conspiracy would attack the validity of the true bills returned in Indianapolis last Saturday.

This indication came when attorneys for Michael J. Whalen, Democratic politician, and Anthony Foley, widely-known gambler, refused to waive preliminary hearing and furnished bonds to appear before United States Commissioner Atkins here November 12.

This demand forecast an attack upon the validity of the indictments. The accused men will insist upon the hearing to compel the government to show cause why they should be held for trial in federal court in the Indiana city.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—At the request of United States Marshal Hukriede a general police order was issued today for the immediate arrest of nine St. Louis men, indicted in Indianapolis in the Jack Daniel whiskey distillery case, who had not given bond today for their appearance at the arraignment next Saturday at Indianapolis.

Washington, Nov. 3.—President Coolidge has referred the resignation of Arnold Hellmich, internal revenue collector of St. Louis, to the treasury department for appropriate action, it was announced at the White House today.

Hellmich was indicted several days ago for conspiracy in the Jack Daniel distillery robbery. The resignation will be accepted, it is said.

Millions of American Voters to Polls Today

Elections Are Being Held In Thirteen States—Various Local Amendments Are Submitted.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Some millions of American voters will go to the polls today in thirteen states to elect governors, mayors, legislators, municipal and county officers, and pass upon a scattered assortment of important local amendments.

It is the quietest off-year election the country has witnessed in years. Save for the governorship contests in New Jersey and Virginia and the mayorality contests in some of the large cities like New York, Boston, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Buffalo and Kansas City, there is little of the usual election-day flavor in today's battle of ballots.

Asks for Destroyer to Combat Bandits

Peking, Nov. 3.—The United States consul at Hong Kong today asked for a destroyer to aid in securing the release of two American priests captured by Chinese bandits on St. John island, one hundred miles southwest of Hong Kong, according to a report received at the American legation here.

W. H. Cumston, who entered the Colonial Hospital at Rochester, Minn., Saturday, will undergo an operation in about ten days, according to word received here today. Mr. Cumston will be confined at the hospital about six weeks, it is understood.

PAINLEVE SOUNDS WARNING IN ADDRESS TO DEPUTIES.

REVOLT IS QUELLED

French Troops Are Now Returning from Morocco, Scene of Recent Outbreaks, Premier Says.

Paris, Nov. 3.—France must conclude agreements for the settlement of her war debts before France can be considered safe, Premier Painleve declared this afternoon in his ministerial declaration to the Chamber of Deputies.

The premier announced he plans to create an autonomous sinking fund, independent of state funds, secured by sacrifices, "participated in by all forms of wealth."

Recent Syrian outbreaks are due to "xenophobian intrigue and false news from Pan-Islamic sources," the premier declared, but an inquiry in Syrian affairs is now in progress.

The Moroccan menace is completely eliminated and twenty-one batallions of troops are returning to France, the Premier told the Chamber.

St. Louis Firm Faces Grand Jury Inquiry

Affairs Of Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., Will Probably Be Investigated Following Illegal Loans

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Submission to the grand jury the affairs of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., wholesale dry goods dealers and manufacturers, which was thrown into involuntary bankruptcy by discovery that approximately two million dollars in loans had been obtained on alleged false statements, is probable, according to a member of the bankers' committee investigating the case.

The two and a half million dollar capital stock of the company is said to be wiped out. The audit apparently revealed that a 7 per cent dividend which the firm had been paying on a one million dollar block of preferred stock had been paid from other sources than profit.

Mother and Children Missing After Flood

Village In North Wales Is Reported Destroyed By Breaking Of Dam—Many Persons Unaccounted For.

London, Nov. 3.—Ten persons, a mother and her nine children were missing today following the destruction of the village of Dolcarrog, North Wales, in a rushing torrent of waters which swept down the valley from a broken dam.

Later reports indicates tonight that the loss might be heavier than at first expected. The town has a population of 3,000 and many of the residents have not been definitely accounted for.

Says War Department Expenditures Needed

Cannot Budget Without Seriously Crippling Service, Sec. Davis Writes President.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The war department cannot make further cuts in its budget without seriously crippling the military service of the country, President Coolidge was informed today in a letter from Secretary of War Davis.

Davis' letter was in reply to a communication from the President asking for a reduction in the expenditures.

Appropriations are barely sufficient to maintain the present miltary establishment and do not permit any increase in strength or material, Davis said in effect.

Asks Simplification in New Tax Measure

Washington, Nov. 3.—The enormous congestion of disputed tax cases in the treasury department, now amounting to $2,100,000, was described to the House ways and means committee today by A. W. Gregg, solicitor, in impressing upon the framers of the new law the urgent necessity for simplifying its provisions.

CHANGING MISSOURI.

What will Missouri be like 25 years hence? Life long residents of the state have noted no great changes in the state until lately. Missouri jogged along for a century, seldom quickening her pace, always progressing a little, but year in and year out she has been pretty much the same. Slow, steady growths attract little attention.

But Missouri is picking up. The state is being re-cast, as one observer puts it. The millions being spent on good roads are beginning to show marvelous results. St. Louis is spending $86,000,000 on civic improvements and another $100,000,000 for buildings. Kansas City is preparing to spend $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 on civic improvements and $50,000,000 on buildings. Every town and city in the state is building and expanding on a proportionate scale.

Thousands of miles of electric transmission lines are being installed. More than 100 communities are installing water supply and sewer systems. Hydro-electric projects call for expenditures upward of $100,000,000. New factories are springing up in the towns and cities. There is real effort being put behind the movements to improve the waterways.

All this bespeaks a new era in the history of Missouri. The next quarter century promises to bring about a wonderful transition. Missouri is the land of new opportunities. — Springfield Leader.

SPORT BENEFITS WIDESPREAD

Against professional sports and even against amateur sports as exemplified in college games, it is urged sometimes that the benefits are confined to too narrow a class that the players are the only ones who get the exercise which justifies indulgence in such activities. This position is hardly tenable. While the players occupy the center of the stage when the games are in progress, in some instances the efforts made by spectators to be present involve more personal exertion than is expended by those taking part in the sports. The long vigil kept by no small number of persons

WELL-MERITED SUCCESS

A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and pimples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Pierce's puts you in fine condition, with all the organs active. of both sexes in order to secure tickets for the World's Series is indicative of what a non-player may be called on to endure in baseball.

In the matter of college football certainly there is no want of activity on the part of the student body not members of the squad. With the "pep" meetings and parades in advance of the games and the jubilation of the victors after a game, it cannot be sustained that whatever of benefit exercise affords is withheld from the non-players. Observations of college sports would seem to bear out the statement that those not on the team get rather more of it than those who play. The latter are rather carefully guarded, while there is not much restraint placed on the former, other than what the human frame can endure. In the matter of celebrating a victory over a hated rival there apparently is not much limit to the endurance.

The roars that go up from the grandstand in applause of a brilliant play offer evidence that even spectators may exert themselves, though they do it in a manner at variance with the players. It might be desirable to have direct part in games more widely distributed, but it cannot be successfully contended that spectators do not get a deal of exercise too.

SELF-INTEREST FIRST.

In Pembroke, Wales, the good citizens have enlisted the aid of Lloyd George in efforts to retain their navy yard, which the British government has decided is no longer essential to the national defense and in the interest of economy should be dismantled.

The patriotic people of the little Welch town do not deny that there is need of retrenchment in governmental expenditures or that the Pembroke navy yard is unnecessary to the country's protection. Their impassioned plea for continued maintenance and operation of the yard is that it is their principal source of employment and that its abolition would mean a virtual evacuation of the town by its residents.

If the British government abandons the yard great hardship will be worked upon the town and its people. If the yard is preserved the government will have ignored an opportunity to reduce the burden of its overtaxed people. Which should the government serve—a nation or a village?

At Pembroke two good reasons for actions directly opposite are in conflict. But such conflicts are not uncommon. Even the United States is never without them.

"THANK YOU!"

Observers of life in the South Sea Islands inform us the natives of those islands cannot say "Thank you." That is to say, there are no words in island languages admitting of a literal translation of one of the most beautiful phrases in our tongue.

When the South Sea Islander feels the disposition to remember his benefactor with some word of appreciation, the nearest he can come to an expression of gratitude is a phrase that says, "This is what I wanted."

Perhaps that meets the requirements of social amenities in the South Seas. But civilized peoples go further than a mere registration of their personal reaction to a kindly deed or word. "Thank You" means gratification, and more. It means gratitude. It expresses a feeling of love and friendliness. It implies faith in the universe, in man, and in God.

By all means, do not forget to thank those who may be nearest and dearest to you, whose services are so often taken for granted, winning from you neither gratitude nor commendation.

We live in a rich world where it is comparatively easy to get what we want. But the getting of anything means the sacrifice and service of others who usually give back more than they are paid to give, and who look for wages that are not always to be found in the pay envelope.

Sincere praise is a little to look for but a big thing to find. No praise is ever wholly undeserved.

A BIG FRENCH POPULATION.

Montreal, Canada, is rated as the greatest French speaking city in the world outside of Paris. While Quebec speaks French more universally than any other city in Canada, the French placed at 623,356 by a recent census analysis. French Canadians comprise 28 per cent of Canada's population and number 2,452,751 and of this number 1,889,177 or 77 per cent are concentrated in the Province of Quebec, which includes both Montreal and Quebec.

Forty-five per cent of these live on farms, 15 per cent in the rural villages and forty per cent in the cities. The province of Ontario has a quarter of a million French Canadians most of whom work either on the farms, the lumber camps or in paper mills. Production figures showing the value of all lines of goods produced in the various industries last year indicate that every French Canadian family added an average of $1,648 in new wealth to the dominion.

Walk to Work and Go to Bed Early

Head Of U. S. Public Health Service Gives Advice Especially Applicable During "Pneumonia Season.

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

Washington, Nov. 3.—Avoid needless crowding and walk to work if you have time, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, head of the United States Public Health Service said today in warning that the next five months constitute "pneumonia season in the United States."

"Increases in the number of cases of pneumonia are often sudden and coincide in some measures with sudden changes from mild to severely cold weather," Gen. Cumming said.

Pointing that pneumonia is caused by infection of the lung tissue with a microscopic vegetable germ known as the pneumococcus, he recommended that the following measures be used to avoid contracting the disease:

"Avoid needless crowding. Walking to work if one has time is better than riding. Begin going to bed an hour earlier and getting up an hour earlier, one may find time to walk.

"Stay in the open air and in the sunshine as much as possible but do not get chilled.

"Breathe fresh air. Breathe through the nose. Avoid all poorly ventilated, overheated places to which it is unnecessary to go. Keep the windows of your sleeping room open. Keep the windows of the room in which you work open. Rooms a little cooler are better than rooms a little too warm. For people who are well the best temperature in the winter is about 68 degrees during the day. After one goes to bed the temperatures may be allowed to drop to 55 or even 50 degrees.

"Use plenty of covering to keep warm while you sleep. Keep the feet dry and warm.

"Avoid persons who are coughing and sneezing.

"Avoid late hours, overeating, chilling of the body and overheated rooms."

Washington Is Happy When Congress Meets

Rest Of Country May Suffer From Investigations, Etc., But National Capital Likes Legislators.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—The rest of the country may feel easier when Congress isn't in session, monkeying with the tariff, interfering with business and investigating things, but Washington is happier when the lawmakers are on the job. Their present vacation is the longest they've taken in a decade—nine months—and the capital will be very glad when they reassemble in December.

They brighten up the city. They fill the hotels. They attract visitors They put money in circulation. They are good for local trade all 'round.

Washington is a metropolis when the lights are burning on Capitol Hill. Between times it's an overgrown village. It still has the White House and the departments as attractions, but, all put together, with the supreme court thrown in, they're nothing like the show that Congress affords.

For one thing, the White House tenant and the department heads are all of the same political faith. There's no hairpulling among them. The minute Congress convenes it begins. The rival parties pull one another's hair, the "opposition" party pulls the administration's hair, the administration hollers, in pain and anger, and the whole place is full of bustle and activity and pleasant excitement.

Sessions which immediately precede congressional election campaigns, as this next one will are especially apt to be gingery, for each party is trying to get something "on" its rival that will count at the polls the ensuing November. Groups of politicians are beginning to gather here already to think up and talk over issues of this sort for the season of 1925-6.

How to stop BOILS!

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils! That's common sense—isn't it? All right. Boils thrive because the blood gets so weak in healthy, red cells that it can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's not enough rich, red blood to purify the system.

Now—S. S. S. builds back the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions! Boils dry up!

S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it.

Stop boils with S. S. S. It's the way. Get it at any druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

You must say
"QUICK QUAKER"

To get true Scotch flavor—famous Quaker Oats flavor—in quick cooking oats

THE difference in breakfast oats is flavor. Oats, originally a Scotch dish, must have Scotch flavor.

Quick Quaker has the toasty Scotch flavor that's so wonderful . . . famous Quaker Oats flavor.

No other brand has it. None successfully imitates it. It's due to exclusive Quaker milling of the finest, plumpest oats. Milling methods which took some 50 years to perfect.

Makes all the difference in the world. Quaker Oats spoils folks for ordinary brands of oats. Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. No kitchen muss busy mornings.

Due to Quaker milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

Look for the picture of a Quaker on the oats you get.

"Pewee" Jackson Gets Ten Years

Convicted In St. Joseph Yesterday—Was Sent Up From Nodaway County a Few Years Ago.

Today's St. Joseph Gazette had the following:

Ernest Jackson, alias Pewee Jackson, charged with being a habitual criminal, was metted out swift punishment Monday in criminal court by a rapid-fire jury, which deliberated only nine minutes before it returned a verdict of guilty and sentenced him to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Testimony showed that Jackson had previously served five years in the penitentiary on a charge of motor car theft, the sentence being imposed on him several years ago at Maryville. He was brought to trial here on a similar charge, and the habitual criminal charge was later filed against him.

He is alleged to have stolen a Ford coupe belonging to P. M. Beauchamp, who formerly lived at Bethany, from where he had parked it near the Schneider building, June 20.

Jackson was sent up from Nodaway County for stealing the John R. Hubbell car at Barnard.

EDITS WORK ON RURAL LIFE

College of Agriculture at Columbia, views in the Ozark region of Missouri and a cliff in Monroe County near Mark Twain's birthplace. Pictures of crop harvesting in Missouri and of University of Missouri vocational students learning truck gardening are also used.

M. F. Miller, professor of soils, is the author of an article "Soil Survey." Prof. Miller takes up soil types, the making of soil maps and the value of soil surveys. The importance of drainage in the United States, its extent, and the need of such work are discussed in the article.

John Ashton, agricultural historian with the state board of agriculture, has contributed articles on "World's Food Supply" and "Dual-Purpose Cattle." The former has been referred to by Mr. Bellows of the publishing company as being "one of the most important of the major articles of the work." It is a comprehensive treatment occupying twenty-nine pages. Maps and illustrations of life in many countries are given. Sources and means of production of practically all of the world's food supply are described. Mr. Ashton's article on "Dual-Purpose Cattle" describes the advantages and profits to be realized by the farmer in raising cattle good for both dairy and beef purposes.

A set of "The Book of Rural Life" is at the Farmers Trust Company of this city.

Jake and Dollie Clements gave a Halloween masquerade to a number of friends Friday night at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clements, south of Maryville. The decorations and refreshments were carried out in the Halloween colors and games and music were the entertaining features. The following guests were entertained: Hazel, Blanche and Clarice Hubbard, Laura Hoshor, Leona Whorton, Hildred and Laura Margaret Bolin, Ruby Rice, Bernice McFarland, Myrtle Frazee, Linda Sheridan, Opal Hantze, Marie Woods, Hattie Culver, Cecil Hubbard, Chester Davis, Orbin and Henry Owens, Fred Sturm, Beryl Jackson, Blondia and Buck Neil, Binnie Horman, Harry Drydale, Bud Crane, Oakley Belcher, Johnnie Thompson and Ed Whorton.

Hostess at Dinner.

Miss Ella Marjorie Shell entertained at a 12 o'clock dinner Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shell, northwest of Maryville. Her guests were Misses Catherine, Beulah and Helen Holt, Pauline Hall, Lois Dakan, Marion Clark, Lucile Duncan and Frances Shell.

Party at Shamberger Home.

Misses Elizabeth and Merle Shamberger entertained with a Halloween masquerade Saturday night at their home, southwest of Maryville. Halloween decorations were used throughout the rooms and refreshments, suggestive of the season, were served. Cider was served by a witch. Various games were played at five tables. Those entertained were Misses Beulah Mutz, Chloe Riggle, Gladys Busby, Audrey Linthicum, Maenora Shamberger, and Roy and Earl Riggle, Marvin Epperson, Arthur Snowberger, Fred, Marvin and Jake Shamberegr, Harry Danner and Mr. and Mrs. Edison Blag.

Around Our Town

The weather man is trying to please everybody. A week ago it was the snow they wanted. Voila! Snow. Then they wished the snow would turn to rain, and Voila again! 'Tis raining. If anyone else wants any other kind of weather, be sure and make the want known.

Charles R. Gardner claims that Halloween in Maryville was a mild event indeed. He boldly recalls the time when he and other boys decorated every show window in an Indiana town and next day watched the entire populace file around the square, appreciating the work of art.

In the last year or so six boys, who were only sons and children, have been married here. Perhaps the absence of girls in the family caused them to be so foolish.

Too Much Efficiency

By E. J. Rath (W. J. Watt and Co.)

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

JOHN W. BROOKE, widowed hardware magnate, before leaving the city for two months, arranges with a firm of efficiency engineers to take charge of his home during that time. He fails to tell his plans to his grown children, Constance, Billy and Alice. They soon find out, however, when

H. HEDGE, assigned to the job, takes control of the Brooke household, occupies John W.'s private suite and turns the library into an office. He is now in the process of buying an "efficient" hat for Constance. He has selected one from quite a number sent to the house by an exclusive store. Constance trying it on admits that she likes it. He turns to the saleslady and asks the price.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"All right. How much is it?"

"We have not the price," said the chief saleswoman. "They were not sent up with the hats. But if monsieur—"

"Never mind. Monsieur can tell a cheap hat when he sees it, likewise a strongly built hat. Miss Brooke buys this hat. Tell them to send up the bill. 'Phone me, by the way, as I want to get it in my records today and send the regular requisition. Now you can bundle up all that millionaire stuff and sell it to the easy-marks. Good day."

The two ladies from the Luxembourg put the extravagant hats back in the boxes, while Constance hurried up to her rooms. She planted herself before a mirror and made a short speech to the hat.

"You little dear!" she exclaimed softly. "I love you for being so plain and simple and cheap. And I'm so glad they sent up all the other horrid ones. But—oh, I'm afraid something is going to happen. But he bought you; he said so. And I won't give you up. I'm going to make sure of you by wearing you—right now! We're going out for a walk, little hat—just you and I. Come—let's hurry!"

While Constance and her little hat went for a walk, H. Hedge was grinning in satisfaction.

"It's not going to be such an awful job to put economy and efficiency across on this house, after all," he mused. "Miss Brooke has just learned an important lesson. Took it sensibly, too. That girl has a head on her shoulders, if she'll only use it."

Twenty minutes later the telephone rang.

"Oh, it's the Luxembourg, is it? All right. Yes, I took that small hat. It's what? Oh, I don't care anything about the model being exclusive. That stuff is all rot, anyhow. No, and I don't care whether it's from Paris or Pittsburg. That's more rot, too. Just send me the bill, and let me have the amount now. What?

H. Hedge's dark hair bristled.

"Say that again! What?"

He had started to write a memorandum, but his fingers trembled.

"A hundred and fifty dollars! Cut that out! I didn't buy all the hats—just one! The little one!"

He swallowed hard and listened again.

"That was the most expensive hat in the bunch? Paris—exclusive? And a hundred and fifty! Say, are you a milliner or a burglar? Wait! Hold the wire!"

He raced out into the hall and bumped into Matilda.

"Where is Miss Brooke?" he demanded.

She went for a walk a few minutes ago."

"Did—did she wear a new hat?"

"She did," answered Matilda stonily.

H. Hedge gulped, wiped his forehead, and walked slowly back to the library. The receiver off the telephone hook attracted his attention. He picked it up gingerly.

"Send up your bill," he said. "What? Why, certainly! I know a hat when I see one."

Then he sat down heavily and began marking aimlessly on a pad. But the marks gradually assumed the form of letters:

STUNG

* * *

Billy had been crisscrossing the floor nervously, with his hands deep in his pockets. The outbreak alarmed Alice, while it inspired astonishment in Constance. Normally, Billy was easy-going.

"Oh, it's all right for you to smile, Connie," he said savagely. "You worked him good and plenty, but only because he didn't know it. A fool hat is one thing, and gasoline is something else. But it isn't that so much either. I don't care if I never get anything out of him. It's the talk."

"What talk?" asked Constance hastily.

"Oh, these good old friends of the family—the rubber-neck crowd. I've been out a bit today. I'm hearing the gossip. You told me not to say anything, so I couldn't explain. But they're all asking questions about E. E., and every one of 'em has different dope."

"What are they saying?"

"Everything. One line of talk is that father has picked up some favorite nephew and made him a portege and taken out guardianship papers."

"He doesn't need a guardian," remarked Alice with a shake of her head. "He needs a keeper and a padded cell."

"There's another yarn that this guy is a British nobleman," continued Billy, ignoring his younger sister; "that he is a house guest for an indefinite time, and that maybe he'll be a son-in-law."

Constance flushed vividly.

"How absolutely absurd," she exclaimed.

"I'm only giving you what they say," declared her brother wrathfully. "Another one is that he's a classmate of mine who is just back from South America, where he's been on a ranch. And—get this—there's another yarn out that E. E. is a famous portrait-painter, who's putting the whole family on canvas. They've gone so far with that that Alice is already painted, and I'm going to be exhibited next spring. They're going to call it 'Girl With Fan,' or something like that."

"It's unbearable," declared Constance.

"Unspeakable," affirmed Alice.

"Well, it'll end any time you say," said Billy, coming to a halt and indulging in an emphatic gesture.

Alice displayed alert interest.

"I don't understand," said Constance. "You mean that you have a plan? You have some way to end it?"

"Sure. I've had one from the first. Only you've been going into arguments with him."

The son of John W. Brooke spoke with assurance and ease.

"The plan, please," said Constance.

"Chuck him."

"How?"

"Me."

Billy stretched lazily and glanced down at his own considerable bulk.

"You propose to tell him to leave the house?"

"Tell him? Not for a minute. Why tell him? Just put him out; that's all."

Alice looked at her big brother and betrayed excitement.

"Really, Billy?" she exclaimed.

"Why not? Any reason why it cannot be done? You two have been beating around the bush with your schemes, when there's only one easy way. And it's so darned simple. I suppose that's the reason you never thought of it."

He viewed his sisters magnanimously.

Constance pursed her lips and considered the idea. Beyond quetion it was necessary to terminate the dictatorship. Argument and compromise had failed. Yet Constance instinctively revolted at anything so vulgar as the employment of force. It was something unknown in the Brooke household; something foreign and distasteful. Still, the situation was also new and unknown since the day she could first remember anything.

"I'm for it," declared Alice promptly. "Will you really do it, Billy?"

"Watch me."

"How about you, Connie?"

"Well," said Constance cautiously, "I'll watch—if he'll do it."

"Come on."

NEXT: Efficient dancing.

"Tell him? Not for a minute—Just put him out, that's all."

Women of Argentina Ask Divorce Right

Double Standard of Morals Recognized In South American Country—Woman Suffrage Urged Too.

By N. REYNOLDS PACKARD.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Buenos Aires, Nov. 3.—Argentine feminist leaders are demanding that divorce be granted here in order to give women power wherewith to combat "the evils of the marital system existing in Argentina."

Many modernistic thinkers contend that the reason divorce has never been recognized in this country is because of the double standard of morals which enables men to lead a free life while their women folk remain at home.

Impetus has been given to the movement by the chamber passage of a bill giving women equal civil rights with men. This measure, freeing them from restrictions as to property holding and the like, is destined to come before the senate next March.

Hitherto it has been impossible for Argentine women to sell any property without the consent of husband or other male relative. Likewise, a woman previously could scarcely venture alone at night on the streets without facing the danger of arrest on suspicion of undertaking something criminal.

Actual woman suffrage is also being sought, but leaders of the movement confess that it probably will be another decade before this is achieved.

WORKING HARD FOR CAMERON

TEAM BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS AFTER WEEK'S REST.

TWO MORE MEN OUT

High School Team Preparing for Homecoming Game Against Cameron High on Friday.

Maryville High School football practice started over again yesterday afternoon. It started over because the Spoofhound gridders have been having a week of rest on account of the weather. Yesterday, Coaches W. H. Herbert and Hugh Graham had their charges busy with the fundamentals of the game: Tackling, spiking, falling on the ball, and charging.

Friday afternoon the locals meet Cameron High School in the Homecoming game. The locals mentors are pointing their charges for this battle. Although it will not effect the conference standing of the school, a great many alumni and former students are expected to attend, and the Maryville coaches are anxious to chalk up a victory.

The prospects of the team were brightened this week when "Fox" Kissinger, tackle, and Godsey, end, reported for practice for the first time since the Albany game. These boys will prove good reserve material, a lacking factor in the Maryville football machine.

Between halves of the game Friday the local high school band will give a "stunt." The band will also play before the game and during all intermissions.

The officials are: Delamatre, Nebraska, referee; Marsh, Drake, umpire; Deatherage, Missouri, head linesman; and H. L. Raines, timer.

St. Patrick's School Cagers Start Season

First Game For Team Coached By Ernest Ellis to Be Thursday Night.

The St. Patrick's School basketball team will officially open its season Thursday night when it meets the Burlington Junction High School quintet on the local High School court.

This is the first time that the St. Patrick's High School has had a basketball team, and prospects are good, Ernest Ellis, coach commented today.

The team will be matched with others of this vicinity later in the season and will probably enter the high school tournament at the end of the season.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Mrs. Miles Was Miserable a Long Time—Owes Final Recovery to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dover, Ohio.—"After my last baby was born I was up and around again, but I was sickly all the time and did not know how to get my work done. I had washed a heavy carpet and I think that was the cause of my troubles. I went to several doctors, but their medicines did not do me any good. I asked what the trouble was, for I could hardly walk and always had such pains in my left side and then in my right side. He told me I had inflammation that caused it. I had one of your text-books and was reading it, and I thought I would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After four days of taking it I began to feel better, so I took three bottles without missing a dose. That helped me more than any other medicine I had yet taken and I always have it handy now. It surely did put me on my feet again."—Mrs. JAMES MILES, 419 Cherry Street, Dover, Ohio.

T. B. SOCIETY BEGINS WORK

MRS. H. L. HUNT IS EMPLOYED AS OFFICE SECRETARY.

TO AID IN CAMPAIGN

Much Preliminary Work Necessary Before Annual Sale of Christmas Seals.

Mrs. H. L. Hunt, a former Y. W. C. A. worker in St. Joseph, began work yesterday as office secretary for the Nodaway County unit of the National Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Hunt will assist in the Christmas seal campaign by which the association raises funds each year for its fight against the white plague.

The campaign is not to be formally opened until the Christmas season, but a great deal of preparatory work is necessary. The association will seek to enlist the aid of all physicians, women's clubs, chambers of commerce, parent-teachers associations and the schools.

The Nodaway County unit of the Tuberculosis Association is headed by Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, and Miss Gertrude Horton of Ravenwood is secretary-treasurer. Dr. C. P. Fryer, Bert Cooper and H. T. Phillips are members of the executive board.

Mr. Phillips and Superintendent Somerville will attend a meeting of the state executive board in St. Louis, which is to be held November 10 in connection with the state convention of the Missouri Teachers Association.

Mrs. Hunt had been engaged in the Y. W. C. A. work in St. Joseph for three years, and she finds this experience valuable in her new duties here. Her headquarters will be in the office of Mr. Somerville.

Will Give Mitchell Ample Opportunity

Court Overrules Motion To Dismiss Whole Case And Adjournment Is Taken Until Monday.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The army court martial that is trying Col. William Mitchell for "conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline" decided today to give the flying colonel ample opportunity to defend himself before finding him guilty.

After promptly overruling a motion to dismiss the whole case, which indicated a virtual verdict of guilty, the jury of generals granted him an adjournment until Monday next in order to obtain numerous witnesses through whom Mitchell will endeavor to prove that his charges of "criminal negligence" and "almost treasonable administration of the army and navy's air service" were fully justified.

Sheridan Lumber Co. Awarded Judgment

A judgment by default was rendered this morning in the attachment suit of the Sheridan Lumber Co., against George A. Bradley, when the case was called in Circuit Court. The plaintiff was awarded $63.90 at 6 per cent, and a special execution was ordered levied on the attached property.

No other cases were decided today. The suit of Frank Alumbaugh against Mrs. May Louise Alumbaugh, for divorce, was continued.

Several civil suits and two criminal cases are to be heard in the last half of the week. The state cases are against Raymond Gunn, negro, and Robert Moody.

BUTLER FEUD FLARES AGAIN

PENN. TROUBLE BROUGHT TO WASHINGTON.

PEPPER WITH PINCHOT

Governor, However, Is First To Bring His Plea For General's Retention Directly To White House.

Washington, Nov. 3. (United Press)—A political feud in Pennsylvania has been brought to Washington in the contest over extension of the leave of Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, U. S. M. C. to permit him to serve further as director of public safety in Philadelphia.

The wrangle has been dumped on President Coolidge's doorstep and inevitably he will disappoint somebody by his decision, probably some of his best henchmen. It is not often that the President has been confronted with such a snarl.

The drive to keep Butler in Philadelphia has behind it Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, an "outsider" so far as the regular Republican organization goes, for he is an earnest opponent of Secretary Mellon and has crossed swords with the President himself. At the same time, Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania finds himself aligned with Pinchot although the governor is regarded as a potential candidate against Pepper for the senate next year. Moreover, Pinchot beat Pepper to the White House with the request for Butler's retention, by two weeks and hence has the commanding position as Butler's supporter.

On the other side of the fence, opposing Butler's retention, is Rep. William A. Vare, of Philadelphia, and a power in Pennsylvania politics. He opposes both Pinchot and Pepper and has brought to his support as a special pleader to the White House, Rep. Martin Madden of Illinois, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, [illegible] Vare supported Madden for the House Speakership last year and they are political allies. Madden is respected at the White House and his word carries weight. So the President is confronted with a party row in which important members of the party are aligned on each side over a local matter, and moreover, there are important differences of opinion in each faction.

If he decides to let Butler remain, he practically assures Pinchot a victory and disappoints Madden and Vare and if he recalls him he hurts Senator Pepper.

The prospects are that he will recall Butler on the basis of a statement he made last year, that he could extend Butler's leave on year and no more, and that extension expires December 31st this year.

Cemetery Association Asks Incorporation

A petition for incorporation of the Platte Valley Cemetery Association was filed this morning in circuit court.

The articles provide that all real estate to be acquired by the association shall be used for the sole purposes of a cemetery or burial ground and that the income received from all sources shall be used for the upkeep, maintenance and beautification of the cemetery. It is in Grant Township. Incorporation for fifty years is asked.

The officers of the association are: President, Huston C. Smith; vice-president, Till Breit; secretary, Oliver P. Pettigrew; and treasurer, C. L. Pettigrew. Others who signed the articles of incorporation were Jessie V. Schildknecht, W. R. Thompson, Walter J. Breit, William Walter Thompson, Letitia Skidmore, Lenna M. Pettigrew and Amy Skidmore.

May Start Another Diploma Mill Probe

Attorneys Expect Dr. Robert Adcox To Break Long Silence On Alleged Activities Of Ring.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Possibility of another grand jury investigation of the national medical diploma fraud was evident today as attorneys prepared to put Dr. Robert Adcox, alleged "clearing house" for the ring, on the stand in the suit to revoke the charter of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Adcox, who is under federal indictment and faced with a prison sentence, is expected to break a silence of two years and reveal the manipulations by which for years he operated as a seller of bogus medical licenses.

Circuit Attorney Sidener declared he wished to review evidence in the case and confer with colleagues before deciding on whether or not to call a special grand jury.

Immigration Experiment Proved Successful

New And More Humane Chapter In History of Ellis Island May Be Written, U. S. Authorities Believe.

Washington, Nov. 3.—A new and more humane chapter in the grief-ridden history of Ellis Island loomed today as a probable development of the next few months.

Encouraged by the success of the experiment in the British Isles whereby immigrants are examined on the ground by American inspectors and physicians and rejected in some cases before taking the long voyage across the Atlantic ocean, officials here today are considering the installation of similar stations in other countries.

It was learned that Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Belgium have informally requested the state department to send inspectors to their leading ports. Germany is also understood to favor the plan. Of all countries annually sending large numbers of immigrants to the United States, Italy remains aloof from the plan, it was learned.

Mrs. James Lett and son of Pickering were Maryville visitors yesterday.

Kennett—Four hundred and twenty-seven cases are on this month's term of the circuit court. One hundred and twenty of the cases are criminal of which six are murder trials.

A Health Department Is Authorized in Holt

Bureau To Have a $7200 Annual Budget, Half to Be Paid By County Court.

Holt County is to have a county health department. Yesterday Dr. C. P. Fryer, Nodaway County health officer; Fred Smith, county clerk; Dr. J. W. Mountain, director of rural health for the state department of agriculture; and a Dr. Gebbert of Fortesque met with the Holt County Court and formulated plans for the new organization.

The new health bureau will open about January 1, and will be based on a $7200 budget annually. One-half of this amount is to be furnished by the country court of Holt County, and the other half is to be paid by the United States Public Health Service, the State Board of Health, and the International Health Board.

The new bureau will have one full-time health officer, one full-time nurse, and one office assistant. None of these has been chosen yet and all of the positions are open for applicants.

With the opening of the bureau in Holt County, there will be three county health departments in Northwest Missouri. Nodaway County was the pioneer in the movement four years ago and was followed a year later by Gentry County.

Sentiment has been favorable in Holt County for some time along this line. Many persons from Oregon and other towns of the county have been in Maryville studying the work of the Nodaway County bureau, and this feeling was chrystalized into action last week when Dr. Mountain was here in consultation over the matter.

Dr. Fryer said this morning that the county-health movement is growing in Missouri and that it was his opinion that in a few years such a department would be found in a majority of the counties of the state.

Honesty Discussed at College Y. W. Today

Devotional and Talk On Prohibition Form Program at Y. M. C. A. Meeting This Morning.

"How Honest Shall We Be?" was the subject for an open forum discussion at the Y. W. C. A. meeting at the College this morning.

"Cheating in examinations, cutting classes, disobeying college rules, borrowing money, gossiping, handshaking" rowing money, gossiping, handshaking" were phases of the subject which were discussed in relation to honesty.

Ninety-six girls of the College now are members of the organization.

Members within the organization gave the program this morning at the Y. M. C. A. meeting at the College.

"Sweet and Low," "Row, Row, Your Boat," and "Come Thou Almighty King," were the songs sung during the community singing.

The devotional was led by Sam Urban. His Bible reading was the twelfth chapter of Luke. In commenting upon the passage he said that "We are in college so we can be of more service to the world."

"Prohibition has saved about 350,000 lives each year, alcoholic insanity has decreased two-thirds, there are less industrial accidents, there is more money for things which are more important, and there is much less liquor in the country" thought Orville Adams in a short talk on "Prohibition."

"Caprice," (Robert Braun Ellenberg) was a piano solo by Kenneth Leeson.

"Stars of the Summer Night," was the closing song.

Funeral for Infant Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown were held at the family home near Guilford at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Henry Neighbors. Burial was in the Guilford cemetery. The baby, who died a few hours after birth Sunday morning, is survived by its parents, a sister and three brothers.

Mrs. E. T. Godsey went to Kansas City yesterday on a buying trip.

NORTHEAST NODAWAY.

Dick Wake and family were guests Sunday of Arthur Scott and family.

June Dowis had the misfortune to sprain his ankle the first of last week but is now able to walk some.

Ike Rickabaugh and Harry Young had a load of nice Hampshire hogs on the St. Joseph market Monday.

Goodie Dowis and wife of St. Joseph were visiting C. P. Dowis Saturday night and Sunday. They drove up in their car and found the roads pretty bad.

Ralph Crawford and mother, Mrs. Kate Crawford visited friends near Parnell Sunday.

E. E. Dowis, took the second prixe on the Angus calves he had at the Stockers and Feeders Show at St. Joseph last week.

Jesse Engle & Sons had a fairly good sale of their Hereford cattle. The thirty-five head averaged $230.00. Owing to the very bad weather and roads many prospective buyers were unable to get there and the attendance was light. This sale was held October 27.

Wm. Hutcheon of Bolckow, Mo., who had a dispersion sale a few years ago is now building up a new herd, and he topped the sale by paying $1,005, for Beau Blanchard 190th, a yearling. The Engles have one among the finest herds of Herefords in the Middle West.

LITTLE BRICK SCHOOL NOTES.

Little Brick School held its first community meeting October 23. A demonstration of class work and a program based on the events of October was given by the pupils. Mrs. Crane gave a report on the benefits derived from the teachers meeting at Maryville. Refreshments of sandwichs, cookies and cocoa were served by the ladies of the district.

St. Louis—There are thirty-five "Marys" enrolled at Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo., a suburb. The second most popular name is "Margaret," 30 girls being enrolled having this name. "Elizabeth" comes third with 20 while "Helen" and "Virginia" are fourth with 14 each.

Kansas City Stock Yards, November 2, 1925.

Cattle Active, Hogs Lower, Sheep Firm.

Cattle receipts today were 7,000 smaller than a week ago, and this decrease, together with the plain quality of killing classes show that the end of the grass cattle movement is at hand and that the short fed kinds have started to come. Practically everything in desirable flesh was steady. No full fed steers arrived. Hog prices were down 10 to 25 cents. The largest decline was in the light lights. The winter packing season has started and the market should develop a stable position. Sheep and lambs were quoted firm.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 28,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep compared with 35,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 20,700 cattle, 7,300 hogs, and 4,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

Killers were in the market early today and where they found anything of desirable flesh they traded freely at strong prices. The plainer kinds sold slowly but fully steady. Most of the straight grass fat steers brought $6.25 to $8, and short fed steers $8.25 to $9.75. Some that had been given a short round of cotton seek cake on grass brought $7.75 to $8.25. A few fairly good fed steers sold at $10 to $10.50, but the choice quality and full fed steers were entirely lacking. Cows and heifers were steady and in fairly active demand. Prices for canners and cutters ranged from $3.15 to $3.85, and butcher cows from $4 to $6.50. None showed any material amount of feed. Veal calves were steady, best light weights bringing $11 to $11.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Liberal receipts of stockers and feeders met an active demand at strong prices. Better weather conditions broadened the demand from the corn belt and the trade will probably remain active the rest of the week. Quality of the offerings was good.

Hogs.

Hog prices broke 10 to 25 cents. The light lights were off 25 cents and other weights down 10 to 15 cents. This tended to reduce the price spread, but left the general market at the low point of the season. The top price, $11.25, was paid for weights under 160 pounds. The bulk of the 170 to 300 pound hogs brought $10.75 to $11.15. Packing sows sold at $9.25 to $9.75 and stock hogs and pigs $11 to $11.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Practically all the lambs offered today were short feds that sold at $15 to $15.50. They were quoted strong to 15 cents higher. Some Texas yearlings at $11.50 were the only sheep offered, outside of odd bunches. Fat ewes are quoted at $7 to $8 and fat wethers $8 to $9.

Horses and Mules.

Better weather brought an improved demand for horses and mules at steady to strong prices. Receipts continued moderato.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Grain futures finished sharply higher after the rise of spirited buying on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Adverse crop news from Australia and Argentina brought spirited buying into the wheat pit. There was some late profit taking and fractional easing in prices from the top. Aside from complaints from the antipodes, news was of little interest. Lack of confirmation rendered negligible as a bull feature, a report that England has purchased over a million bushels Manitobas. Outside markets were steady to strong. Cash was dull but higher.

Unfavorable weather over the principal growing regions advanced corn prices sharply.

Oats continued to be neglected. Price changes were insignificant.

Provisions were dull and lower reflecting lower hogs and some profit selling.

MISSOURI NOTES.
(United Press)

Charleston—Henry Nichols, Nashville negro, had to have five dollars. The sheriff proffered him $5 and the negro announced he was wanted in Nashville.

New Madrid—S. L. and John Hunter of New Madrid have been awarded the contract for widening the right of way between Sikeston and Hayti. More than 60,000 cubic feet of earth is to be moved.

Kirksville—Phillip J. Fowler, county superintendent of schools, has been admitted to the bar by an order of Circuit Judge Cooley. He recently was admitted to the practice of law, having passed an examination at Jefferson City.

Columbia—Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University of Missouri, can "lend a helping hand." Recently two students were motoring when their motor car skidded into a ditch. Several motorists passed and gave no aid. Finally a sedan approached in which was the school president. He stepped out, helped fasten a chain to the mired car, then stood by while it was pulled out. He refused the grateful "thank yous" with the comment that he now and then became mired while motoring himself.

Fredericktown—Work has been started on remodeling of Marving College here which is to be converted into a high school building. A new auditorium is being constructed.

SHERIFF'S SALE IN PARTITION

Under and by virtue of a decree and order of sale, issued from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Nodaway County, I will, on Saturday, the 7th day of November, 1925, at 2 o'clock p. m. of that day, at the west front door of the Court House in Maryville, sell, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described real estate, viz:

Lot four (4) and the north one-sixth (1-6) of lots five (5) and six (6), in block twenty-three (23), Torrence's addition to Maryville, in Nodaway County, Missouri.
The former home of Richard T. Wigsell, deceased.

L. B. CAMPBELL,
Sheriff of Nodaway County.

Ruling on Tie Games in M. I. A. A. Changed

Last year there was a rule in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, of which the local State Teachers College is a member, that tie games in football counted as half a game won and half a game lost.

By that ruling, Maryville and Kirksville tied for the conference championship last year. However, after the championship had been declared a tie by governing officers of the body, it was decided to do away with the rule and count a tie game as no game played.

Several local fans have been working on the old rule and thereby giving the Bearcats the lead in the M. I. A. A. race when in reality there is a tie with Warrensburg.

This Football Game Has No Stop Watch

(Kansas City Star).

Providence, R. I., Nov. 2.—Radical departure from all accepted football custom will be made in the Brown-Boston university game here next Saturday when the stop watch will be discarded and the game run on a basis of forty plays per period, Dr. Fred W. Marvel, director of athletics, announced today.

It has been contended that the present system of playing 15-minute periods is of no benefit except to the team which scores first and they can use up so much time by legitimate delays that its opponents are left with no chance to score.

Pastime Stables to Enter Four Horses

Local Animals to be Shown in Wichita and Kansas City Next Week and Week After.

The Pastime Stables will send four horses to the Kansas National Horse Show in Wichita next week and the American Royal Show in Kansas City the week following. The local horses which will be shown at these shows are: Sundial, a five-gaited stake horse; Paula, a three-gaited saddle horse; and Allerzo and Franco, road horses.

The horses will be shipped from here Thursday.

The Doctor says ★★★★

"For at least six months of each year, your heating plant to a large degree controls the health of your family."

Install a furnace that provides moist, healthful heat. One that is gas-tight and soot-less. One that is dependable in all weather at all times. Install a WEIR and enjoy economy as well as comfort and health, the same as others have been doing for more than 40 years.

Let us explain the WEIR Furnace to you.

Pipe This Cheer Leader

No wonder Tulane University of New Orleans has been the big surprise of the year in football. The most recent achievement of the southerners was an 18-7 defeat of Northwestern at Chicago. Look the cheer leader, Mary Draper, former Follies beauty, over and you have the reason. Who couldn't play football when urged on by Miss Draper?

Former Maryville Man to Responsible Post

George R. Eaton, With Hanamo Co. Three Years, Now Chief Engineer of Kellogg Switchboard Co.

George R. Eaton, who was employed at the Hanamo Telephone Co. office here from 1911 to 1914, has been chosen as chief engineer of the Kellogg Switchboard & Supply Co., of Chicago, according to the current issue of Telephony, a trade publication.

Mr. Eaton, widely known among telephone men of the United States, is a gradnate of the Kansas State Agriculture College at Manhattan, having received his degree in 1908.

He joined the engineering department of the Kellogg company in 1914, going from Maryville to Chicago. He has had considerable experience in power engineering.

For the last two years he has spent much of his time in apparatus engineering, although his work since he went with the Kellogg company has been in development, particularly of switchboard equipment, having had a great deal to do with the large multiple switchboard installations made by the company.

Mr. Eaton is married, and has one daughter, Dorothy. They live in Oak Park, Ill., one of Chicago's western suburbs.

Nodaway Hogs Top Market.

Two loads of hogs shipped by the Maryville Shipping Association topped the market at St. Joseph last Saturday at $11.30. There were only three loads to touch this price, two of them being the ones shipped by local farmers.

Suits and Overcoats

That look like something; that feel like something and dont cost "like everything"

Suits $25
Others up to $60

Overcoats $18.50
From $20 to $55

Style comes first with us. It should with you, too. If an overcoat or suit doesn't give you smart lines it is doing only a small part of its job. Next comes quality. We have them from the best foreign and American weavers. Then comes cost; our prices arelow at first and then longer wear makes them still lower.
